- Teach other University System of Georgia (USG) computing departments how to run summer camps.
- Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.

Outcomes

Georgia’s high school curriculum, professional development of teachers, a high school graduation endorsement, and AP CS counting towards high school graduation.

Increased the largest percentage (21%) of high schools offering AP CS in the Southeast states – the most Georgia students.

Increased the number of students taking AP CS with 57% increase in women and 300%

Over 25% of the CIS programs have changed their curriculum after attending workshops.

Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.

Teach other University System of Georgia (USG) computing departments how to run summer camps.

Outcomes

Georgia’s high school curriculum, professional development of teachers, a high school graduation endorsement, and AP CS counting towards high school graduation.

Increased the largest percentage (21%) of high schools offering AP CS in the Southeast states – the most Georgia students.

Increased the number of students taking AP CS with 57% increase in women and 300%

Over 25% of the CIS programs have changed their curriculum after attending workshops.

Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.

Teach other University System of Georgia (USG) computing departments how to run summer camps.

Outcomes

Georgia’s high school curriculum, professional development of teachers, a high school graduation endorsement, and AP CS counting towards high school graduation.

Increased the largest percentage (21%) of high schools offering AP CS in the Southeast states – the most Georgia students.

Increased the number of students taking AP CS with 57% increase in women and 300%

Over 25% of the CIS programs have changed their curriculum after attending workshops.

Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.

Teach other University System of Georgia (USG) computing departments how to run summer camps.

Outcomes

Georgia’s high school curriculum, professional development of teachers, a high school graduation endorsement, and AP CS counting towards high school graduation.

Increased the largest percentage (21%) of high schools offering AP CS in the Southeast states – the most Georgia students.

Increased the number of students taking AP CS with 57% increase in women and 300%

Over 25% of the CIS programs have changed their curriculum after attending workshops.

Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.

Teach other University System of Georgia (USG) computing departments how to run summer camps.

Outcomes

Georgia’s high school curriculum, professional development of teachers, a high school graduation endorsement, and AP CS counting towards high school graduation.

Increased the largest percentage (21%) of high schools offering AP CS in the Southeast states – the most Georgia students.

Increased the number of students taking AP CS with 57% increase in women and 300%

Over 25% of the CIS programs have changed their curriculum after attending workshops.

Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.

Teach other University System of Georgia (USG) computing departments how to run summer camps.

Outcomes

Georgia’s high school curriculum, professional development of teachers, a high school graduation endorsement, and AP CS counting towards high school graduation.

Increased the largest percentage (21%) of high schools offering AP CS in the Southeast states – the most Georgia students.

Increased the number of students taking AP CS with 57% increase in women and 300%

Over 25% of the CIS programs have changed their curriculum after attending workshops.

Offer seed funding for USG faculty to run summer camps.